SEAAJSL (VALS) 2019 AGM Communique

Released: Tuesday 14th January 2020.

On Friday the 20th of December 2019 the inaugural Annual General Meeting of the South Eastern Australian Aboriginal Justice Services Limited (trading as the Victorian Aboriginal Legal Service) was held.

The agenda included annual reports and financial reports for the years 2017-2018 and 2018-2019. Reports were received and passed by our membership in attendance at the meeting.

During the meeting, new company logos for the South Eastern Australian Aboriginal Justice Services Limited business and the Victorian Aboriginal Legal Service were endorsed. These logos were well received by the attendees and it was noted that in the upcoming year, SEAAJSL / VALS will be rolling out the logos in our publications and branding as we enter a new stage of VALS growth.

A key agenda item of the day was the election of Directors to the 2020 Board of Directors for the company. Nominations were received for the below community members and they were duly elected:

- Desmond Morgan
- Amanda Dunstall
- Eddie Cubillo
- Pam Aplin
- Sue-Anne Hunter

The Board of Directors will meet in first quarter of 2020 and undertake an internal election process for the office bearer positions. The outcome of this process will be communicated to members and the community after the first meeting through a further communique.
